

RSVP?

Reciprocal

Are you asking or telling? A skillful question is designed to get a great answer.

Stereotypes & generalisations

Avoid using all/never/always when asking questions because people who are part of the same group are still individuals.

Views

Are you asking for the other person's view or are you just stating your own view?

Positive Language

Does your question include any language that is not kind or respectful?

? Question

Now ask yourself: does your question have any of the RSVP points in it?

How can you change your language or approach so you are asking a more skillful question?
